

Nada Ali
Independent Researcher

Thorny Issues and Perilous Coalitions: Gender, Race and Sudanese Exile Politics

This presentation examines the discourses and practices of the exiled Sudanese opposition in the 1990s from a gender perspective. Drawing on in-depth interviews with male and female politicians and activists, documentary analysis and participant observation, Ali argues that the nature of Sudanese opposition and gender politics in the 1990s has contributed in many ways to recent women's rights violations in Sudan. Ali also explores how racial, ethnic and regional differences posed challenges to coalition-building and solidarity among exiled women's groups. She will reflect on what can be learned from this history, given the upcoming elections in Sudan.

Thursday, December 3, 2009 at 5:00pm

83 College Street, Mount Holyoke College
For more info, www.fivecolleges.edu/sites/fcwsrc
or tele 413♦538♦2275

Amherst College ♦ Hampshire College ♦ Mount Holyoke College ♦ Smith College ♦
University of Massachusetts Amherst

Nada Ali
Independent Researcher

Thorny Issues and Perilous Coalitions: Gender, Race and Sudanese Exile Politics

This presentation examines the discourses and practices of the exiled Sudanese opposition in the 1990s from a gender perspective. Drawing on in-depth interviews with male and female politicians and activists, documentary analysis and participant observation, Ali argues that the nature of Sudanese opposition and gender politics in the 1990s has contributed in many ways to recent women's rights violations in Sudan. Ali also explores how racial, ethnic and regional differences posed challenges to coalition-building and solidarity among exiled women's groups. She will reflect on what can be learned from this history, given the upcoming elections in Sudan.

Thursday, December 3, 2009 at 5:00pm

83 College Street, Mount Holyoke College
For more info, www.fivecolleges.edu/sites/fcwsrc
or tele 413♦538♦2275

Amherst College ♦ Hampshire College ♦ Mount Holyoke College ♦ Smith College ♦
University of Massachusetts Amherst