Then and Now Circles

Consider what you already know about tea or the tea trade. Think back to what you’ve learned in elementary school, past history and geography classes, what you’ve seen in the news, television or movies, and even your own personal experience with tea. What do you remember or what do you think of when you hear the word tea? Write any items in the “Then” circle. (This is like a brainstorm – just write things down. Pictures are OK too.)

At the end of the lesson, you will complete the “Now” circle to demonstrate what you have learned.
